THE South-Carolina Gazette.

Containing the freſheſt Advices Foreign and Domeſtick.

From MONDAY October 4, to MONDAY October 11, 1742.

LONDON, May 18.

BY ſome Letters from on board the Rupert and Neptune Men of War in the Mediterranean, dated May 1, we are informed, that the former had taken two Veſſels, laden with Forage, and Horſe Furniture, for the Fourth Embarkation of the Spaniſh Troops; and that ſoon after ſix other Veſſels were taken; that Don Philip was at Antibes with his whole Court, who were in the greateſt Conſternation at the Appearance of the Britiſh Fleet, which kept a continual Cruize along the Coaſt; and that his Donſhip's manner of Living at Antibes was very unlike that of a Prince, being very much ſtreightened in every Thing. They alſo tell us that an Officer of one of the Engliſh Ships had a few Days before gone by Land from Marſeilles to Toulon, and was on board the Fleet in that Harbour, He ſays, that the French have refuſed to let the Spaniards have any Proviſions, being in want themſelves, and have no Probability of getting any, for Admiral Leſtock has, by his Cruizers, ſtopp'd up all the Harbours from whence they could expect Supplies; therefore, as the Letter ſays, they are finely off with their Expedition. —— The combin'd Fleets of Spain and France make 34 Sail, viz. 21 Spaniſh and 13 French; but the Engliſh Enſigns appearing continually off the Harbour, has put theirs quite out of Countenance. — Upon the whole Don Philip has now little Hopes of getting to Italy by Sea, and no better by Land, therefore it wou'd not be amiſs if he return'd home to his Mamma, 'till a more favourable Opportunity.

May 25 Capt. Bell, of the Marlborough, arrived from Carolina, informs us, that about 75 Leagues W of Scilly he met with a new Spaniſh Privateer, of 10 Carriage Guns beſides Swivels, under French Colours; at which Time Capt. Bell was under Dutch Colours, and ſpeaking Dutch very well, paſs'd for one of that Country, and got clear without any Examination, the Spaniard at parting wiſhing him a good Voyage, which Compliment he return'd

May 27. His Majeſty's Ship the Roebuck, Capt Brett, arriv'd at Dartmouth on Monday, in 25 Days from Portmahone, and has brought over Vice Admiral Haddock. This Ship touch'd at Gibraltar, and brings Advice, that Vice Admiral Mathews, in his Majeſty's Ship the Namure, with the reſt of the Fleet under his Command, had been at Gibraltar and were ſail'd up the Streights, to join the Fleet commanded by Admiral Leſtock

June 1 Letters from Maddras, to the Hon. Eaſt India Company, adviſe, that Capt. Gilbert in the Duke of Dorſet, had taken a Spaniſh Prize, (the Manilla Ship) worth 15,000 l. and carried her to China.

Letters from Genoa, import, that Captains Lee and Norris, Commanders of two of his Britannick Majeſty's Ships, had taken 15,000 Dollars, the Property of the King of Spain, out of a Dutch Ship in the Streights.

June 3. His Majeſty's Ship the Biddeford commanded by Capt Dawney, being on a Cruize, took a Spaniſh Privateer on the 25th of laſt Month off of Cape Clear, and brought her into Plymouth. She is call'd the St. Antonio, of Bilboa, mounts 24 Guns and had 96 Men, had been 19 Days, but taken no Prize.

Letters from Portſmouth adviſe, that the Men of War, Bomb Ketches and Tranſports, with the Soldiers on board for Gibraltar and Port-Mahon, fell down to St. Helen's and ſail'd from thence laſt Monday Morning.

By private Letters from Dunkirk we hear, that they are in ſuch Apprehenſions of a Viſit from ſome of their Neighbours by Sea, that they are lining the Coaſt with Cannon, and every where making additional Fortifications; and to prevent a Surprize had laid Booms acroſs the Mouth of the Harbour.

Extract of a Letter from Oporto, dated May 24.

'Yeſterday arrived the Charming Betty, Capt. Swain, 'from Carolina, who fought a Privateer about 2 Leagues 'off this Bar, and the Spaniards attempted to board him, 'but he kill'd and wounded ſeveral, ſo they were glad to 'leave him. Afterwards in their coming to the Product 'Place, where it is cuſtomary to ſalute the Town, in 'drawing the Shot they unluckily left a Ball in one of the 'Guns, which has kill'd a Man. So the Captain and his 'Sailors, are fled aboard of the Man of War, and what 'will be the Conſequence of this unlucky Affair we can't 'ſay ——'

Letters from Leghorn adviſe, that the Engliſh Squadron cruizes on the Coaſt of Provence, and that Admiral Leſtock has detach'd three Men of War to block up the Port of Barcelona; in the mean time he cruizes with eight large Ships before Antibes, where there are ten French and Spaniſh Gallies, and a great many other Veſſels. They have taken 12 Tranſports with Soldiers on board, which they have ſent into Villa Franca.

June 8 Yeſterday came Advice, that four Ships laden with Corn from Marſeilles, are taken in their Paſſage by a Britiſh Man of War, and carried into Port-Mahon.

June 10. 'Tis affirmed, that on a moderate Computation the Spaniards, ſince they encamped at Peſaro, have loſt by Deſertion 7000 Men.

On Monday laſt the Lark Man of War, on board of which is Sir Thomas Robinſon, Governor of Barbados, ſail'd from Spithead.

June 12. We hear that Admiral Mathews, with ſeveral Men of War is arriv'd in the Adriatick Sea; and Admiral Leſtock continues cruizing on the Coaſt of Antibes, by which Means the Spaniards are depriv'd of receiving any Succours.

We hear that a Squadron of Men of War will ſpeedily be ſent up the Baltick, in order to protect the Britiſh Trade in thoſe Seas; for which purpoſe all the Officers and Seamen are ordered on board their reſpective Ships.

From the London Gazette.

Whitehall, June 12. On Wedneſday the 9th Inſtant, a Court-Martial was held by Admiral Cavendiſh, on board his Majeſty's Ship the St. George at Spithead, to enquire into the Conduct of Sir Yelverton Peyton, late Captain of the Hector, and of Captain Fanſhaw, late Captain of the Phœnix, during the Time they were ſtationed at Virginia and South-Carolina, from whence they lately returned to England. The Court adjudged Sir Yelverton Peyton to be diſmiſſed from ſerving as a Captain in the Royal Navy; and adjudged Captain Fanſhaw to be mulcted ſix Months Pay for the Uſe of the Cheſt at Chatham.

June 17. By Advices from Dunkirk we hear, that as ſoon as they heard of the Arrival of the ſecond Convoy of Engliſh Troops, they began to work with double Diligence on the Intrenchments round the Camp they have formed in that Neighbourhood, and that they have likewiſe begun ſome more new Works towards the Sea for the Security of the Harbour.

The Remainder of the Foreign Advices taken from the Gentleman's Magazine for the Month of June, 1742, begun in our laſt.

THE moſt favourable Event for the Queen of Hungary, and which, as it was entirely unexpected has given the moſt agreeable Surprize to all Well Wiſhers of the Houſe of Auſtria, is the Peace concluded between her and the King of Pruſſia; the following are the principal Articles, 'The 'Queen yields to his Pruſſian Majeſty not only the Upper & 'Lower Sileſia, except the Principality of Teſchen and Troppau, but likewiſe the Principality of Glatz in Bohemia. 'The King engages to obſerve an exact Neutrality during 'the Continuance of the War, and in 15 Days to withdraw 'his Troops from Bohemia, in which Time the Ratification is to be made His Pruſſian Majeſty takes wholly 'upon himſelf to pay the Sum due to the Engliſh Merchants, 'Principal and Intereſt, on Account of the Mortgage made 'Jan. 10, 1734-5, by the late Emperor upon Sileſia. His Britannick Majeſty guaranties this Treaty, both as King of Great Britain and Elector of Hanover. One of the ſeparate Articles imports, that the King of Poland ſhall be invited to accede to this Treaty, to whom 16 Days are allowed to withdraw his Troops The Concurrence of the Czarina and States General, the King of Denmark, and other Princes is likewiſe deſired

This Affair was negociated with impenetrable Secrecy. Prince Charles of Lorrain finding Means after the Action at Tein, to have a private Interview with the King of Pruſſia, he immediately ſent Orders to Count Poſewitz to ſign the Treaty. The French Marſhal Belle Iſle, who was in the Pruſſian Camp, while this Affair was carrying on, really believed 'till the 1ſt, that the King would march his Troops towards Prague and join the Confederates; But his Majeſty having then declared to him that he intended to remain neuter, the Marſhal immediately ſet out for Prague, whence he has written to the Emperor, 'That it is with 'the greateſt Concern he finds himſelf obliged to inform 'him that the King of Pruſſia has made a ſeparate Alliance 'with the Queen of Hungary, juſt when his Aſſiſtance was 'moſt wanted: That his Aſtoniſhment was equal to his 'Grief; but that the French Troops, tho' abandoned, wou'd 'give Proofs of their Zeal and Conſtancy to the laſt Extremity.'

His Pruſſian Majeſty, at a grand Entertainment which he gave to all his General Officers on the Concluſion of this Treaty, ſaid to them, I aſſure you, Gentlemen, that as I never endeavoured to diſtreſs the Queen of Hungary, I have tho't proper to accept the Propoſitions ſhe has made for giving me Satisfaction. At the ſame Time he highly applauded the Conduct of the Earl of Hyndford in this Negociation, drank to the happy Reconciliation, the Healths of the Queen, Grand Duke, and that of the brave Prince Charles

The King of Poland will alſo, without Doubt, embrace the Intereſt of the Queen, as ſhe has propoſed to him an advantageous Family Convention, whereby it will be ſtipulated, That if it ſhould happen that the direct Iſſue of the late Emperor Charles VI. ſhould fail the Electoral Houſe of Saxony ſhould ſucceed to all the Auſtrian Territories

Upon this Turn of Affairs ſeveral Circles of the Empire have agreed to unite their Forces to oppoſe the Enterprizes of France, and ſupport the Queen of Hungary, who has juſt publiſhed a Reſcript importing, That the Court of France can no longer with Juſtice claim the leaſt Right to the Dutchies of Lorrain and Bar, ſince ſhe has violated every Article of the Treaty of Vienna, by Virtue of which ſhe holds Poſſeſſion of them. Prince Charles of Lorrain always diſregarding the Promiſes made him by France, would never be prevailed upon to ſign the Ceſſion of theſe Countries; on the contrary he enter'd a ſolemn Proteſt againſt it, which he has now lately renewed.

Theſe unexpected Misfortunes do not a little encreaſe the Perplexity of the French Miniſtry. M. Boſſy has written to them that nothing more can be negociated at the Court of London, 'till his moſt Chriſtian Majeſty ſhall withdraw all his Troops from Germany.

The French Clergy taxed themſelves at 14,000,000 of Livres, by way of Free-Gift to the King, who is making formidable Preparations in Flanders, the Troops under the Marſhal de Maillebois are to form two Camps, one on each Side of the Lower Rhine. The Houſhold Troops &c are to form a third Camp in Hainaut, and that of Dunkirk grows ſtronger every Day. On the other Hand the States of Brabant are not inactive; they have regulated the Diſtribution of the Britiſh Troops in the following Manner: The Garriſon of Ghent will have 1650 Horſe-Guards, four Regiments of Dragoons, containing 1740 Men, 2296 of the Foot-Guards; and three Regiments of Foot, conſiſting of 2448 Men, in all 8134: There will be in Bruges ſix Regiments of Foot, 4890 Men: At Oudenarde one Regiment of Horſe 435 Men, and one of Foot, 815 Men: At Courtrai two Regiments of Foot, 1630 Men: At Lierre one Regiment of Horſe, 435 Men: The Total 16339.

The Duke of Modena finding that his Sardinian Majeſty perſiſted in his Demand of having Modena and Mirandola deliver'd up to him, withdrew from his Dominions, ordering the Governors of theſe Places to defend them to the utmoſt At the ſame time he recommended his Children to his Sardinian Majeſty's Protection, who aſſured him that all poſſible Care ſhould be taken of them. The Town of Modena has ſince opened its Gates to the Enemy, but the Garriſon of 4000 Men retired into the Citadel, which the Sardinians began to bombard on the 29th paſt, and, it is ſuppoſed, are now Maſters of it.

The Spaniſh and Neapolitan Armies, under the Duke de Montemar, being in Want of Proviſion, are dwindled, by Deſertion, to 22,000 Men; and the Auſtrian Huſſars have had the Advantage in ſeveral Skirmiſhes.

His Sardinian Majeſty to prevent the Spaniſh Troops which have traverſed Languedoc from penetrating into his Dominions through the County of Nice, has ordered the Militia of Savoy, the Peaſants and Highlanders, to whom he has diſtributed Arms, with 2000 regular Troops to guard the Paſſes on that Side, where twenty Men may ſtop a Thouſand.

An Officer in the Spaniſh Army writes thus to his Friend

"Our Artillery remains for the moſt Part in Spain, our Cavalry are got no farther than France, our Proviſions, they tell us, are at Genoa, and as for our Pay, we are to expect it from Peru. Under ſuch Circumſtances, I leave you to judge whether Don Quixote himſelf, if he were at our Head, would think of making Conqueſts, or ſo much as attacking Windmills"

By the Mediation of the King of Great Britain, a Treaty has been concluded between their Majeſties of Hungary and Sardinia, by which that Princeſs conſents to yield the Paveſan, the Vigevanaſe, the Fortreſſes of Pavia, Vigevano and Vigevano, with ſome Diſtricts in the Vallies of La Seſſia; on Condition that that King ſhould to the utmoſt of his Power, aſſiſt her Majeſty, in preſerving the reſt of her Dominions It is not without Reaſon ſuppoſed that an Alliance is made between the Britannick and Sardinian Monarchs; by which the latter is to have an annual Subſidy of 50,000 l during the Continuance of the War, and the Republick of Venice is invited into a quadruple Alliance with thoſe three Powers.

However this is certain, That Admirals Mathews and Leſtock having ſo diſpoſed their Fleet along the Coaſts of Spain, France and Italy, that no Supplies can reach the Spaniards, and that Don Philip continues blocked up at Antibes, the King of Sardinia has written a Letter of Thanks to his Britannick Majeſty.

Letters from Hamburgh import, that the Court of Denmark has received 200,000 Crowns, the firſt half yearly Payment of the French Subſidy, which is to continue Five Years

From Paris, That the French Court has ſent Orders to ſtop their India Ships from ſailing.

London, July 19. Letters from Admiral Mathews give an Account, that a French Man of War paſſing in ſight of the Fleet, and refuſing to pay the Compliment to the Flag, the Admiral has fir'd at him to bring him to; but the Commander perſiſting in his Obſtinacy, Capt. Ambroſe was order'd out to force him to good Manners, who pouring a Broad ſide into him, ſunk him directly.

Our Advices from England (dated in August last) import, that Prague having been attack'd on all Sides, Sword in Hand, by the Austrian Army under Count Khevenhuller, had surrender'd to her Hungarian Majesty, and that the Garrison, consisting of near 20,000 Men, (French and Bavarians) were made Prisoners of War, and among them Marshal Broglio The Austrians lost in the Action about 6000 Men, but for further Particulars we must wait 'till the next Vessel from Europe
